Taste loss

taste perversion—drug induced and spontaneous reports, literature review 229

Taste perversion

taste loss—drug induced and spontaneous reports, literature review 229

Toxicity

of aluminium/daily exposure, medical uses 123

Tuberculosis

therapeutic problems with elderly patients, isoniezid/rifampicin/pyrazinamide/hydrazine 13

Contents of Volume 11 1992

Spring 1992

Sir Derrick Dunlop

Editorial

Implications of recommendations from the international conference on harmonization (ICH) for the safety evaluation of new medicines involving animal studies for the pharmaceutical industry

Therapeutic problems in the management of elderly patients with tuberculosis

The Chinese restaurant syndrome: a reappraisal of monosodium glutamate's causative role

A review of the literature on benign intracranial hypertension associated with medication

Counterfeit drugs: implications for health

Spring book reviews

Summer 1992

Famous names in toxicology: Mateo Orfila

Adverse effects of the lipid-lowering drugs

Adverse effects of sulphasalazine

A review of the ability of non-clinical testing strategies currently applied to drugs to detect known human carcinogens

Toxicity of aluminium: a historical review, part 1

Summer book reviews

Autumn 1992

Famous names in toxicology: Donald Hunter

Editorial

Breast cancer risk and the administration of human hormones: part 1 — hormone replacement therapy

Adverse effects of antiarrhythmic drugs

Drug-induced impairment of performance

Autumn book reviews

Winter 1992

Famous names in toxicology: John Morrison Barnes

Editorial

An appraisal of spontaneous adverse event monitoring

Drug-induced disorders of taste

Fraud and misconduct in clinical research: is it prejudicial to patient safety?

Winter book reviews

Index to Volume 11